

Summon The Yields Hiding In Your Late Bloom Phase

When you don't know what to look for, it's easy to miss things. For a very long time growers noticed a stall in the late bloom phase. Their flowers typically reached a peak a couple of weeks before harvest. And because that's what happened for everyone, nobody questioned it.

Until a team of plant scientists who study a very specific type of flower got curious. They wondered... in those last few weeks, after their flowers had reached that "peak", if the flowers could keep growing? So they began experimenting.

OVERDRIVE

And they found a way to pull shocking performance out of the last couple weeks before harvest.

The result is a bloom booster called Overdrive by Advanced Nutrients. And it works with your plants' natural changes in physiology and nutrient needs late in the bloom phase, in a way that no other bloom booster can.

Because Overdrive is the result of a very unique scientific process, crafted to perfection by some of the greatest plant scientists in the world. This includes the purest water humanly possible (Reverse Osmosis treated... used by Coca-Cola™ and Red Bull™), a secret mixing temperature, a proprietary blend of ingredients no other nutrient company is even aware of, and plant-specific tissue sample testing that can take years to finish.

Start growing the sort of flowers you can charge an arm and a leg for – and let us take the risk.

If you'd like to see what's possible when your plants don't stall in the late bloom phase, visit your local hydro store and ask for Overdrive by Advanced Nutrients. If you don't see a very satisfying increase in density and mass in the final weeks before harvest, return it with proof of purchase for a full and immediate refund.

Read what growers are saying about Overdrive!

Jeb, from Tulsa Oklahoma "This crop was the strongest I've ever had. It had to be the Overdrive."

Tim Fratto "Advanced for sure, nothing better. Big Bud, Bud Candy, and Overdrive, yummy. Good luck. Oh yah remember a little is alot :-). PH."

Jay, from Earlysville, Virginia "Thank you, thank you, thank you, for my best harvest yet."

Ask your local hydroponic retailer about what Overdrive can do for your garden today!

www.advancednutrients.com/Overdrive

